Something Just Doesn't Add Up - There Are At Least One Hundred Thousand People Worldwide That Are Excited About Building An Internet Business So Why Are Only Three Hundred Actually Making Money?

It has been amazing to me!

I've been slowly building an internet business for the past three years, and I've seen, learned, and tried a lot. I've watched marketers come onto the scene in a flash, and disappear in a fizz.

If you've been online longer than three months, I'm sure that you have seen the same thing. What amazes me is the fact that there are so many people trying to earn money online, yet only a small percentage actually are.

I've been quietly observing, like a Navy Seal on a covert operation, waiting for the right time to arrive on the scene and make things right. Now is the perfect opportunity to get rid of all evils that are stopping you from achieving your goal of internet success, time freedom, and financial stability.

By the end of this report, I hope to show you that all of the notoriety and success that you desire is in your grasp. It is within your reach, and you don't need to spend thousands of dollars and countless hours of disappointment to take hold of it.

There is a serious problem in the internet marketing community right now.

Marketers are running around in circles, reselling the same information. Email has taken a bit of a hit, and many marketers have turned into bandwagon marketers with little to no creativity.

It makes it very difficult for business people with a strong desire for success (such as yourself) to achieve that success when everything is so "fake".

It's time to put the kids to bed, release the hounds, and recognize your destiny as a blooming business person with nothing but profitable days on the horizon. You wanted a sensible way to earn money on the internet... you've got it!

You wanted powerful solutions for your business promotion... you've got it!

You wanted all of the tools that big name marketers use to stay ahead of the curve... you've got it!

One Of The Biggest Reasons I See For Such A Lack Of Success In The Internet Marketing World Is The Technology You Have Access To And The Technology The "Gurus" Have Access To

Let me blunt with you for a second...

Everyone has access to the same internet. Whether you have dial-up, DSL, or broadband, you log on to the same exact internet as everyone else, every single day.

You can go to Yahoo and Msn just like everyone else. You can shop on eBay and get news from CNN. These may be some of the same sites that your favorite internet gurus go to on a daily basis.

If that's the case, why are you worried about money, while your favorite guru is raking it in hand over fist and basking in the sun.

I'll tell you why...

While they are surfing around, your favorite gurus are using all kinds of power-packed software and scripts that enable their business to run like a multi-million dollar corporation, as opposed to a back-room operation... even if it is!

What's more is that they know where to look to find the kind of technology that is needed to truly compete on the internet in today's climate. Unfortunately, for the average internet marketer, the information and resources that are needed to compete are only revealed after a purchase is made.

Even then, the consumer only gets half of the story most of the time, while paying full price and expecting a complete solution.

It's a ridiculous cycle, but let me ask you this...

What if there was a way to finally put all of that behind you?

Would you pounce on it like a lion pounces on its prey, or would you stare at it in confusion like a deer caught in some big, buggy eyed, Mercedes Benz headlights?

If the way your eyes are pulsating off of your Adobe Reader is any indication, you would pounce on it and devour it for all that it's worth! Good for you!

Here's what I'm going to do:

I'm going to tell you about some outstanding technology that you can begin using immediately to grow your business exponentially. I'm going to show you how you can use this technology to bring in big profits on the internet.

I'm even going to show you how you can earn as much as $173.95 every time you give this report away to the people that you come in contact with on the web. Best part about it is, once you put it in motion, it will continue to bring in profits for you, whether you are working or not.

Are you prepared for that?

Here we go...

With A Potential Market Of Millions Online, Does It Really Make Sense For A Serious Internet Marketer To Operate Their Business WITHOUT An Automated Follow Up System?

I've seen it, you've seen it... you might even be going through it.

Too many marketers are trying to conduct business without an automated system to follow up with their visitors and potential customers.

That's a no no.

One very key thing that you have to remember about the internet is that it reaches millions of people world wide. That means that people are visiting your business while you are sleeping, eating, or vacationing.

You have to have a way to follow up with people quickly.

That's what autoresponders are for.

Please excuse me if you are a seasoned marketer, because this may sound a bit primitive to you, but it must be said. The reality is, many so called experienced marketers don't use autoresponders to their fullest extent, either.

I see a lot of folks that use autoresponders that only return one message, instead of unlimited messages. I see others that use autoresponders that don't allow personalization tags.

All of these scenarios show a shotty, unprofessional appearance online.

They say that you have one time to make a first impression. Chances are pretty good that if you are offering something similar to another website with a more professional presentation, the other site will get the sale everytime.

For instance...

 Website A has some generic link on their website or in their ezine ad that says to send a blank email to xyz@blahblah.com to get some free report. The email address is connected to their webhost's autoresponder service that replies with a un-personalized message.

👍 Website B pre-sells their FREE report with some short web copy that explains the benefits of the report, then displays a form that requests the visitor's name and email address in exchange for the report. When a visitor requests the report, they will automatically receive it, PLUS a follow up sequence that lasts for 10 days.

I know this is a no brainer, but... who do you think will convert that visitor into a customer?

Website B, right?

First of all, that's the same system you'll be using to earn up to $173.95 with this report!

What's more is that you can use this system for anything if you have an autoresponder script that can handle that kind of marketing. Download the autoresponder script that I have made available for you below.

It enables you to deliver UNLIMITED autoresponder messages, personalized with your subscriber's name and email address. When you personalize your messages, you make your reader feel like you are talking to them.

This builds relationships, which is one of the most important things you can do for your business.

When you customize your copy of Script Scrilla, I will supply you with extra professionally written autoresponder courses that you can plug into your new autoresponder to educate and "court" your subscribers for any product.

This script will be very helpful to you, even if you already have all of the autoresponders that you can handle. Both the autoresponder script and the autoresponder courses come along with Master Resale Rights, so you can sell them for $47 and keep 100% of the profits.

Truth be told, I have seen people selling the autoresponder script alone for as much as $97 on the internet.

Download Autoresponder Unlimited

This is a very dependable, full featured autoresponder script that runs on YOUR OWN domain. Full installation instructions included If you don't have your own webhost (or just like to save money), I got you 30 days for FREE with mine. I'll be talking about them a little bit later, but you will find everything a sophisticated marketer like yourself needs to run a serious internet business by clicking here.

DOWNLOAD NOW

Just so there is no confusion, I am supplying you with an AUTORESPONDER script. This script doesn't allow you to send out bulk mail to your list. In other words, you can send out as many autoresponder messages to as many subscribers as you like, but you have to do a "mass mail" from another piece of software. You can (of course) export your autoresponder lists to your mailing list software. If you have coding knowledge, you can customize this script so it can send bulk mail.

I actually use my webhost to manage my mailing lists and autoresponders.

If you're not big on the idea of installing scripts, you can use a third party solution like Aweber. This service does double duty as an unlimited autoresponder, as well as a email/newsletter service. You will also find all kinds of goodies like personalized messages, custom fields, HTML or text messages, automatic bounceback handling, ad tracking, and much more.

You can go with the script I've supplied you with, or you can go with another solution. That's really up to you. Either way, be clear on the fact that you MUST have some sort of automated follow up system in place if you want to leverage your time.

Hint:* Automation + Backend Income = Financial Independence.

When You Have Your Own Product You Can Make Money Anytime The Mood Strikes You And That's The Truth - Regardless Of What You've Heard

If you are reading this and are new to the internet, that headline will could be worth tons of money to you. If you've been working the internet for a while, you probably already know that your own product can get you paid, paid, paid.

The beauty of the internet is that it is driven by millions of people that are looking for something, which means you can create any kind of product you want. It's really only limited to your own creativity and imagination.

Want to know how to create a killer product that makes the bank hold your money because it's coming in so fast? All you have to do is find a void in the marketplace, and then fill the void. That's how it works in any industry, and the internet is really no different.

Now, you have probably heard that you don't need your own product. You've probably heard that you can earn a six figure income, just by promoting affiliate programs. That is true!

Here's the thing. Anyone that is online making a six figure income from affiliate programs ALONE has created their own product. Their website is their product. By building a site around a theme, and creating content for the theme, a smart marketer can find products that can be sold through the theme.

As visitors surf through the site, they click on all kinds of links that go to other sites that will pay the website owner when the visitor takes action. If you decide to take this "product route", I would definitely suggest that you do some research, and find markets that are not heavily exploited.

Be sure to be creative in your approach and create something original that makes your site stick out to your visitors. The more exciting you make your site, the more time people will spend there, which will translate into money for you.

After all, time is money!

This sort of product is a great place to start for marketers that are just getting into the internet business. This also works well if you want to add some new income streams to your portfolio.

In this type of arrangement, you are promoting someone else's products, which means you have to wait for commission checks. You also have a limited amount of flexibility in what you can and can not do with that product.

In other words, you're not the one in complete control of your income.

In order to create Cash On Demand, you should have your own unique product or service that you have either created yourself, or purchased rights to. This gives you total control, and an all access pass to unlimited income on the internet.

In my humble observation, I see 4 types of products that work well online:

Information Products

Unique Services

Hard Goods

Software And Multimedia Products

A flagship product in any of these categories can put you well on your way to being the next BIG internet success story. I've seen it happen time and time again.

Lets take a few minutes to explore these 4 kinds of products. Remember, it only takes one successful product to start an on-going flood of profits into your pocket.

Product 1: Information Products

The internet runs off of information. You know that and I know that. I am what you could call a information fiend. I yearn it always, because I know that information translates into knowledge, wisdom, and ultimately, PROFITS.

Information products are a great way to earn serious money online because it is all done digitally. You only have to produce your product once, but it can be instantly duplicated when someone orders it.

That means instant gratification for your customer, and instant profits for you.

The problem is, much of the information that folks are charging for in the internet marketing community is nothing more than stagnant information. In other words, it is rehashed over and over again. Just last week, I opened up an e-book that was supposed to be more powerful than the Tazmanian Devil on steroids. I was REALLY excited about it because the sales letter gassed it up like Exxon or Shell.

This book ended up being nothing more than a rehashed version of the thousands of e-books that are already sitting on my desktop, tying up memory.

This seems to be a re-occurring theme.

Hear me clearly... people don't want to know what they already know!

This is not the reason that people purchase information. If you are going to create information products, you MUST deliver hard-hitting information that tells readers EXACTLY what they want to know. I've seen marketers sell 3 page reports for $197 because they got straight to the point and delivered.

If you are selling "how to" information, that information better tell the reader exactly how to do what they are trying to do. If you are selling a book, it had better keep your reader entertained for more than the first few pages.

If your information product doesn't fulfill it's point, you can count on a ton of refunds and lost credibility. Because business isn't done face to face online, your credibility can make or break you.

So, how do you create a info product?

The first thing you want to do is come up with a topic to write about. This really isn't as difficult as you may think. The key here is to write about something that YOU know about... something that you are interested in.

Many internet marketers keep themselves in this bubble, where they think they can only create information products that pertain to online business. Break away from that ideal!

There are people all over the world that ARE NOT interested in internet marketing. That doesn't mean that they aren't looking for information to buy online. By stepping outside of the "marketing mentality", you will see that there are many opportunities for you.

To find markets that are looking for the information that you want to write about, start doing some research. Search out topics that interest you to see who is doing what in that niche, and then make your information better than your competitors.

You should also keep your ears open when you are going about your everyday business.

I have come up with quite a few ideas, just by having normal conversations with people. They may say something like, "I wish someone would do this", or "I really want to know how to do that", and BANG... like a shot from a cannon, I have a new product idea.

But wait...

Why am I spending so much time talking about writing? What happens if you don't want to write? Maybe you don't feel comfortable, or just don't have the time.

That's not really a big deal.

Did you know that you can package and sell works that are in the public domain?

Public domain works are music, images, videos, and literature that no longer hold a copyright. This means that you can slap your name on it and use it any way that you see fit to earn a profit. I have some mind-boggling ideas for the works that I have found.

There are so many ways to make money with public domain works, it will make your head spin. I don't have time to explore it all in detail (that's another report), but you can definitely bank some serious coin by utilizing the power of the public domain.

Yanik Silver's Public Domain Riches explores the ins and outs of this wonderful industry, and how you can capitalize on it. You'll be amazed at how much money is sitting on the table. Be sure to pay close attention to the story of the guy who started his internet business from a simple poem that he found in the public domain.

Regardless of the method that you choose to create your info product, you are going to need some way to compile it. There are some great ebook creators that you can use to put your product together, such as eBook Generator. This software creates professional grade info products for you in an instant.

Here's the thing about e-book compilers:

They only produce .exe files for use on Windows operating systems. Although many computers are run on the Windows platform, using this kind of compiler can cut you off from potential customers and readers.

To combat the problem, I have included PDF Creator software that you can use to produce stunning PDF files for distribution on the web. PDFs are great for info products because they are accessible by every kind of computer. They are also much less vulnerable to viruses than Windows softwares.

It's the web's standard in document packaging.

I hear marketers in all kinds of forums that want to know how to easily create PDF files for distribution. PDF Creator will do just that for you.

Download PDF Creator

PDF Creator allows you to create PDF files from ANY file that can be printed. HTML, Word, Power Point, etc... Full installation instructions included The only drawback to this software is that it doesn't create hyperlinks. I'm actually pretty lucky. Whenever I want to create a PDF, I have two options that I can use. I can either login to my hosting account and upload my file for instant creation OR I can use the script that produced this PDF to make viral manuals. When you customize your copy of Script Scilla, I'll hook you up with the exact same script at no cost.

DOWNLOAD NOW

The more original products you produce, the more momentum you can generate.

What do you do if you don't want to create your own products?

That's simple... just license someone else's.

When I say license someone else's products, I'm not talking about the products that people offer everyone resale rights to. Those products are like cars leaving the car lot because as soon as they are sold once, they lose value and become a liability.

Before you know it, everyone and their mother are giving the product away for free, and no one is making any money.

When I say license a product, I'm talking about going to the product creator and arranging an exclusive deal that allows you to sell the product (as if it's your own) and keep 100% of the profits.

It's a very powerful business model, and one that can pay dividends for you. I'd love to elaborate more, but time doesn't really permit that. Over at Okaymarketer.com, you can listen to Paul Hartunian's audio seminar called Building Wealth Through

Licensing to find out how the process works.

Product 2: Unique Services

One of the things that really attracted me to the internet was the technology. I mean, you can do some really cool stuff. The world wide web gives you the perfect vehicle to create phenomenal services that help masses of people.

As a matter of fact, there are some services that can ONLY work on the internet.

Take a service like CarsDirect .

In my opinion, this site really exemplifies the power of the internet.

They provide a complete car buying experience for visitors of their site. Because of technology, a potential customer can do things that they wouldn't be able to do at the dealership.

They can comparison shop, obtain financing, insurance, and read informative guides for the type of car they are looking for. Visitors can even get free price quotes.

This is the kind of service that earns money.

I think that the key to a successful online service is to have a "hook" that is unique to your site. Remember how I was telling you earlier that people don't want to know information that they already know?

Well, people don't want services that everyone else has.

For instance, Bryan Winters was one of the first people to introduce a service that incorporated resell products, webhosting, and autoresponders. His Push Button Publishing site offers a lot of value for a very small price. He earns a solid residual income every month, and his affiliates have a valuable service to promote.

With success comes mimics. Sites started popping up all over the internet, copying exactly what he was doing. The funny thing about it was, most of the sites that were popping up were getting all of their products from HIS site.

None of the sites did much in regards to long term income, and it's pretty easy to see why... no originality. As opposed to putting their own spin on things, they basically did exactly what Bryan did, expecting to get the same results.

It's hard to see long term results when your business looks just like someone else's.

So, what's my point here?

My point is that a good service can get you a ton of traffic, exposure, and profits. As more and more people come to know about your service, you can become a cornerstone of your market. The catch is, you MUST do something different than the rest of the web.

My Okaymarketer site provides turnkey promotion solutions for internet marketers. You can promote your business through articles, ebooks... even audio and video. We go well beyond anything you've seen online before, and even though I expect copycats to pop up out of the woodwork, everyone knows who the original is.

If you would like to build your business through a service, you'll want to start with what? Research. Find a market that you are passionate about, see what others are doing, and then go from there.

The key is ORIGINALITY!

Use other successful sites in the market as a way to determine what is working and what's not, then do them one better.

To get you started on your way to being a successful service seller, I have supplied you with three scripts to help you get off the ground. Below, you can download a Paid 4 Email Script, Safelist Script, and a Fly In Ads Script.

The Paid 4 Email script allows your members to get paid for reading your email advertisements. The Safelist script allows your members to advertise responsibly to other members. The Fly In Ads script allows your members to promote their sites virally, using unbreakable fly in ads.

Download Service Scripts

These scripts will allow you to get your feet wet in the art of selling a service. Full installation instructions included All three scripts give you the ability to accept free and paid members. These scripts run on your website, so if you don't have one yet, here's where you need to be.

DOWNLOAD NOW

Product 3: Hard Goods

Wake up and smell the coffee.

Let me tell you another thing that is kind of sad about internet marketers. If you remember, I said that a lot of people unfortunately get caught up in a closed minded internet marketing mentality.

Folks get trapped into thinking that they can only sell digital products that are instantly downloaded. Yes, it is a profitable way to earn money online, but it definitely doesn't mean that it's the only way.

Consumers are looking for everything under the sun. Savvy shoppers use the internet to find the best deals on all kinds of items. The internet also enables people to acquire certain things that they may not be able to find where they live.

You don't believe me? I heard of a gentleman by the name of Don that sold a Nuclear Missile Silo on Ebay[™] for 2.1 Million Dollars! That is NOT a misprint.

You can read about it here.

The world wide web bridges the gap.

Now, I'm not saying run out and start selling planes and what not, but I do want to impress upon you that it can be done. If you have what someone is looking for, you can sell it to them in exchange for money.

The big question on everyone's mind when it comes to tangible goods is, where do you get them and how do you sell hard goods online?

Well, if you have some kind of "hands on" experience, you can create your own products. Maybe you can make jewelry. Maybe you make blankets or clothing. All of these goods can earn some great profits. You could start out small, and as your demand grew, you could employ others to help you manage your inventory and shipping.

You have probably noticed that many online businesses are stepping things up and producing dynamic info packages, complete with DVDs and Audio CDs.

These kinds of products can make you a fortune. I'll be talking about this a little later when I go into the wonderful world of multimedia.

Lets stick with the basics for now.

Did you know that you literally have hundreds of thousands of products at your fingertips because you have an internet connection. Even better than that, you don't have to keep any kind of inventory whatsoever, but you can sell the products and keep the profits.

I'm talking about dropshipping. This kind of business arrangement is nothing new. However, the internet adds 2 shots of nitrous to the equation.

You can find companies all across the world that will allow you to sell their products at any price that you want, while charging you one small wholesale price. You don't have to pay one red cent until YOU make a sale, and in most cases, products are shipped under your company's name, giving the appearance that it's coming from your warehouse.

It's a win-win situation for you and your dropship companies.

Here's an idea. How about adding dropship products that you get at wholesale prices to your info products that are immediately downloaded. This will greatly increase the perceived value of your products, plus it breaks down the product delivery, so your customer feels like they are getting more.

So, how do you find reliable dropship sources?

Well, you could type in 'dropshipping' in your favorite search engine, and you'll get well over 200,000 results. Not all of those listings are reliable. There are a lot of "dropship" scams out there. Many sites are selling "valuable lists" of dropship sources that really belong in the shredder.

Personally, I only trust one source when it comes to dropship resources.

You can find them over at World Wide Brands.

Developing the finest, freshest dropship and wholesale resources is their full time business. Every month, they contact thousands of new wholesale suppliers by telephone. That's dedication.

I strongly suggest reading their FREE E-book called "Starting Your Internet Business Right". In it, Chris Malta reveals how to sell wholesale goods online... from A TO Z. This is information that he could easily charge for. As a matter of fact, he reveals more for free than most of these clowns charge $49 for.

One of the key topics Chris touches on in his book is how to set up a store and how to position your store to swipe sales from the colossal "superstores". Will you ever do as much volume as a Wal-Mart? Probably not. That doesn't mean that their customers can't be your customers too.

As a matter of fact, you can make your store much more valuable than the "big boys" by using Profit Automation's Shopping Cart. Because of their built-in affiliate program, you can offer your visitors a percentage of the profits by referring people to your store.

Also, when you become one of our Preferred Members over at Okaymarketer (For FREE), you will be able to download Nothing But Net by Michael Campbell. It is a detailed chronicle of how he earns over $750,000 a year selling tangible goods online. It used to be sold for $39, so you can be sure that you will reveal some staggering information.

Product 4: Software and Multimedia Products

I bunched these two kinds of products together because they both share a common trait: they have wide profit margins that produce HUGE profits!

Software is a bonafied cornerstone of the internet... really your computer in general. Without it, you wouldn't be able to do anything with a computer but stare at a blank screen.

Of course you know about Microsoft's titanic accumulation of wealth through the manufacturing and distribution of software, but what about all of the new up and coming software creators? The industry is so large, everyone has an opportunity to cash in.

One simple software idea could be worth thousands... hundreds of thousands... even millions of dollars to you. I've noticed that with software, if you can develop a tool that is useful and beneficial for a large group of people AT THE RIGHT TIME, you can rake in buckets of cash.

I remember a few years back when Armand Morin released his Pop Up Generator Software. It is documented that this business generated 2 million dollars in a 12 week period. Since then, there have been at least 100 knockoffs. Everyone trying to make it better (or worse).

The key here was TIMING! Armand found the void early, and capitalized. He did his research. It's not that the technology was unavailable to everyone else, it's just that others weren't looking in that direction.

That's the power of software.

It used to be that if you wanted to profit from the software industry, you had to be some sort of tech savvy whiz kid that wore a pocket protector full of pens and used his keyboard for a pillow.

Again, the internet is bridging the gap. No longer do you have to be knowledgeable about software to create a software product.

Did you know that you can get a piece of software written specifically for you for $300 or less. No kidding. Both eLance.com and Scriptlance.com have hundreds of talented coders that could begin working on your project in a matter of days.

They do the work, you pay them one time, and then sell your software for huge profit margins for years to come. Remember, software never goes out of style.

That's not where things stop, though.

The truth is, it's not even necessary to have someone else build your software for you.

Now, without any kind of programming knowledge whatsoever, you can create customizable software products for all kinds of niche markets. I heard about this product called Make Your Own Software that actually creates useful software applications for you. All you have to do is fill in some blanks, click a button, and voila... out pops a fully functional software product that you can begin selling immediately.

This can be priceless to you. Like I said before, software products do very well when the timing is right. If you can crank out a software product AS SOON AS you see the void in the marketplace, you can make a killing.

Case in point: Russell Brunson, a college student from Boise State, brought in a cool $11,859 in 48 hours with a software product he created with Make Your Own Software. If you really want to laugh, it only took Russell 55 minutes to have the first version of the software completed. Russell himself was surprised at how simple it was, which you can read in the press release here.

The software industry is definitely a cornerstone of the internet world, and you can definitely make a great living by creating software. You can be equally as successful producing and selling multimedia products.

This is the new wave of internet marketing. It was really inevitable that multimedia would take over, considering the fact that high speed internet service is becoming more and more accessible.

"In the know" marketers are cranking out blockbuster multimedia products in droves. These kinds of products give off a very high perceived value, and the profit margins are huge. You only have to create one master DVD or audio, and you can continuously duplicate that for sale online (and off).

Not only are faster internet connections more accessible, but the tools to develop these kinds of products have become more accessible, as well. You don't have to have a big production studio to cash in on multimedia products.

In a second, you'll be able to download some software that will have you creating multimedia products in no time flat.

I think what is so powerful about multimedia products is the fact that you can create them for any market, and see the same kind of profit margins across the board. I've seen people using multimedia in all kinds of different ways.

Take Jim Edwards and his I Gotta Tell You newsletter. Every week, he does an informative video on a marketing topic, right on your computer screen. It has been very refreshing for me to see his creativity and dedication with this newsletter. It's powerful stuff.

A little earlier, you heard me mention Armand Morin and his success with software. In Internet Marketing Explained he very generously shows you everything he has learned to generate those kinds of profits on the regular.

Pay close attention to the way the package is presented. It comes with 13 CDs and 4 binders of information that is shipped directly to your door. This is seven years worth of business experience, professionally packaged and organized for your use.

When you fuse hard goods with multimedia, you'll have a winner everytime.

So how do you make multimedia work for you?

There are all kinds of things that you can do.

You can add audio to your website to make your sales message more powerful. Conduct audio seminars that you package and sell, or build a membership site by giving members a new seminar each month.

You could create screenshot videos that you package and sell. Maybe you even build a site around your tutorials like Lynda.com. They have produced well over 100 professional screenshot video tutorials on numerous internet related topics and software.

The possibilities are endless.

Here's another secret that you won't hear from anyone else.

You can actually create DVDs without carrying any inventory whatsoever. All you need is a video camera, and you can be well on your way to producing full fledged DVD products and tutorials.

I found a site called Custom Flix that will produce, package, and dropship your DVD directly to your customers. All you have to do is create it one time. They'll even "spruce it up for you" if you need them to. This is a JEWEL that I am making you aware of. I had thought about keeping this resource to myself, and I'm sure others would. It is a valuable service that can give you a competitive edge.

When you do begin producing your audio and video products, be sure to submit them to me at Okaymarketer for inclusion in my AudioVideo Center. This is where you can listen to all kinds of multimedia presentations from some of today's top marketers. At Okaymarketer, you can be seen by thousands of marketers a day.

Not only do I promote your audio and video clips, but you can also submit a description of your multimedia file and a product image to help you sell even more of your goods. It's just another way that I try to put money in your pocket.

Here's how you can start profiting from the multimedia cashwave immediately.

Below, you will download the Multimedia Starter Pack, which is packed with software you can begin using today to create multimedia products. You will find Audacity Audio Mixer, which enables you to create and mix audio files. Cam Studio enables you to produce screenshot videos in either flash or .avi format. You'll also find some flash buttons to embed audio into your website.

These softwares will help you get your feet in the door of multimedia product creation. Full installation instructions included Don't make the mistake that many marketers make. You can't just get on the microphone and start saying any old thing. The wrong kind of audio can ruin your sales. Be sure to read Audio C4 to see how to really make your audio messages sell. One of the tricks of the trade is to use background music to give your audios a LIVE effect.

Regardless Of Your Product - You Must Promote It In Some Way If You Want To Generate Traffic And Make Any Money

I'm sure that you know that already, right?

Don't be fooled. It takes work and creativity to get quality traffic to your site. You can't just put up a website and expect for the world to come knocking at your door to give you money.

Personally, I try to find ways to generate traffic that leave a lasting impression on my visitors... kind of like this report. In a second, I'll give you all of the details on how you can use this report for your own profit.

Traffic creation, just like product creation, is about imagination. There are many ways to get people over to your website to see your products.

You can concentrate on getting traffic through search engines by supplying them with what they like... fresh content. Perhaps you build up a following through a blog that you update a few times a week (or a day).

Lately, I've been using free services like Opportunity.com and Residual Opt-In Profits to promote my business. These services build a targeted opt-in list for you. You can REALISTICALLY build a list of 50,000 people in a matter of months.

You can conduct viral contests, in which your visitors refer other people to your site, in exchange for a chance at winning the big prize.

You can become a Preferred Member of Okaymarketer.com, where you will be able to promote your web business in all kinds of different ways. Submit your articles, free downloads, audios, and videos to be seen by marketers worldwide. You can use all of my resources to gain massive exposure for yourself and your business. The best part is, it's FREE!

The list goes on and on.

The one thing that I want you to understand is that internet success is really a simple equation. Take a product or service that people want and get it in front of as many people in that market as possible. The more people that are exposed to your product or service, the more money you will make... PERIOD!

I have supplied you with a few downloads that will give you more options when it comes to promoting your websites. These scripts will help you go beyond the norm and put on some really thorough marketing campaigns.

Lets see, you have Tell A Friend Pro software, which is one of the best tell a friend scripts available online. Why? Because it's much more than that. You can actually run contests with this script, boosting your traffic virtually overnight.

I've also included the Link Management Assistant, which automatically manages your reciprocal link campaigns. Now you can easily trade links with other relevant sites to boost your link popularity, which will get you more traffic through search engines. This script also generates niche link directories for you, which can get you an even higher ranking in the search engines.

Blog In A Box shows you how to get started with your own weblog. If you're not familiar with weblogs, they are basically online journals or diaries. Search engines like them because content is added often. Readers like them because they get fresh information when they want it. At Okaymarketer, every member gets their very own blog hosted on the site (extra exposure).

To make sure you get your blog up and running with no hassles, I have also included Word Press Blog Software. I really like this software, and you will too!. It's a powerful blog application that rivals the "others" that are charging $150 PLUS.

You will also find the Sales Page Personalizer script, which will allow you to print your visitors name on your salespages, the same way you do in your emails. This is a powerful technique that can really win your visitors over. It's known to increase sales by over 300% in some cases.

Finally, I have supplied you with the Scientific Internet Marketing Assistant, which is another multi-functional script. Not only can you track your advertisements to find out which ones are doing well (and which ones aren't), but it also performs split-test tracking for you. This allows you to test different variables in your sales pieces to see what converts best. Test headlines, order pages, and much more.

Download Promotional Pack

Take your promotion to another level with these high quality scripts. Full installation instructions included Most of these scripts are for use on your own website/server. Don't forget that I got you a FREE 30 day trial with Thidsrephere Hosting. I can say with all positivity that these scripts run on my website, but I can not guarantee that they will work with others.

Now That You're Equipped With All Of This Powerful Technology And Scrumptious Brain Food- Here's How You Can Earn Up To $173.95 Everytime You Give This Report Away

I am very confident that you have found the information and resources in this report to be valuable. No hype, no gimmicks... just factual information and cutting edge technology that can take your business to another level.

Now it's time to monetize.

There is no doubt that marketers all over the world find the Script Scrilla Manual to be a literal lifesaver. At the very least, it opens eyes to the possibilities of the internet.

Why not give it away and get paid for it?

By customizing your copy of Script Scrilla, you will be able to brand it with your affiliate links for the products that I have mentioned in the report. One of those products will earn you $173.95 when someone buys through your link.

But that's not even where the real money is.

The real money lies in your Okaymarketer link. I pay a commission on two levels, whenever someone customizes a copy of this report through your link. Earn up to $39 per sale, just for getting your branded copy in front of as many people as possible.

The best part about it is, the entire marketing system is already setup for you. All you have to do is fill out a form, change a couple of things on a webpage, and send traffic to it. I'll take care of the rest and send you commissions every day through Paypal for every referral you make.

I've seen people brand their copy of Script Scrilla in the afternoon, and by the early evening, I'm seeing their name come across my desk because they've just made a sale.

The concept is simple and powerful at the same time. If you thought that you got a lot of value out of this free resource, wait till you see everything that you get when you customize your report.
